The Second Term. George F. Newton, Esq., commenced his second term of Auditor of this county on Monday last. No county can boast of a more efficient, accomodating and gentlemanly Auditor than Mr. New-TON has proven himself to be. He is always at his post, and everything about the office is, with the assistance of his efficient Clerk, A. J. Bell, kept in "apple pie order."

Cincinnati Horse Auction. We learn the Cincinnati Horse Auction and private sale stables, No. 24 East-Fifth Street, Cincinnati, are doing a very large and satisfactory business. These stables are kept by Messrs. E. J. LOVELAND and H. MYERS, formerly of this countyand S. Frightey, of Tuscarawas. The numerous friends of these gentlemen in this part of the State will be pleased to learn that they are meeting with success, of which they are deserving. Weimer & Steinbacher.

Wholesale and Retail dealers in Groceries. Drugs, &c., Akron, Ohio, are now receiving their spring stock which surpasses that of any other assortment ever brought to Northern Ohio. They RAILROAD TIME TABLES. sell a large amount of goods to Holmes county .-The chief reasons for this is that the communication with Akron is direct, and Messrs. W. & S. are highminded, honorable business men, who sell goods on short profits and deal satisfactorily with their customers.

The Death of Seneca---Thrilling Incident in the Early Settlement of Holmes

The country which now composes in part the counties of of Holmes and Coshocton, that through Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago R. R. which the Killbuck runs, in early days was a fine hunting ground, and a favorite haunt of the "Red Men of the Forest." This imimediate negliborhood was on their trail from the East to the West Men are yet living in this vicinity who endured the tria is and hardships incident to a frontier life; and they relate many thrilling stories of bloody adventures, and hair-breadth escapes from the sav- BALTIMORE AND OHIO

JACOB AMMOND, now a resident of Coshocton County, who was a soldier in the war of 1812, and fought bravely for his country, lived, in the year 1816, in a log cabin about one mile North of Millersburg, on lands now owned Mr. James Henderson. Seneca was a frequenter of this neighborhood. Mr. Ammond owned two gans. During the summer of 1816, Seneca borrowed a gun from Assembly to take with him to Seneca County, O., which he agreed to return in two weeks. Three weeks passed away and the guo was not returned Mr. Ammono became uneasy about his gun, which was much more valuable then than it would be now, and he sent word to Seneca to bring it home, but he appeared to be in a very bad humor. He tris hoped that there will be a general attendance of remained about the cabin for an hour or two and teachers and all persons started off hunting. He shortly returned and told Ammono that he had a bear near Mile Pend, Mile Pond is a swamp or pond a short distance PITTSBURGH, PT. WAYNE & CHICAGO R. R. CO. Mile Pond is a swamp or pond a short distance south of this place, which was so named from the fact of it being a mile in length. It is, however, quite narrow; and at the time of which we write it was densely surrounded with trees and underbrush. Amnon feard that it was him instead of a bear that Sengea wanted to kill. He communicated these fears to his wife who advised him not to go. He at first refused to go but after deliberating over the matter he concluded that he would be safer there where he could watch Sengea, and have an equal chance with him, than he would if taken elsewhere by surprise. He gave Sengea one gun and kept the most trusty one himself, and started. When they arrived at the pond Sengea told him to take one side of the pond and he would take the other, which he did. He, however, kept like we are Sengea as the content of the product of the President.
